

Anna TRIANDAFYLLIDOU

Professor Anna Triandafyllidou heads the Research Area on Cultural Pluralism at the Global Governance Programme of the European University Institute (Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies). Before joining the Global Governance Programme in October 2012, she was part time professor at the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies specialising on migration issues (2010-2012).

A Senior Fellow at the Hellenic Foundation for European and Foreign Policy (ELIAMEP) in Athens in the period 2004-2012, she headed a successful migration research team coordinating a dozen international externally-funded research projects on various migration management and migrant integration topics. She is Visiting Professor at the College of Europe in Bruges since 2002. She is Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Immigrant and Refugee Studies and a member of the Board of Directors, and of the Editorial Committee of the IMISCOE Network.

Professor Triandafyllidou received her Ph.D. from the EUI in 1995 and held teaching and research positions in Europe and North America: at the University of Surrey (1994-95), the London School of Economics (1995-97), the Italian National Research Council (CNR) in Rome (1997-99), the EUI (1999-2004) and the Democritus University of Thrace in Greece (2007-2010, now on long term unpaid leave). She was a Fulbright Scholar in Residence at New York University in 2001, and a Colston Fellow at the University of Bristol (2001-2002).

She serves as national expert in the OECD Network of International Migration Experts (formerly SOPEMI) and acts as scientific evaluator of research grants for the European Research Council (Advanced / Consolidator / and Starting Grants), the Research Framework Programmes of the European Commission (FP5, FP6, FP7, FP8/Horizon), the ESRC in the UK, the European Science Foundation, the Norface ERA-NET network, and several national research agencies (of Austria, Belgium, Cyprus, France, Greece, Italy, the Netherlands, Sweden and Switzerland). She is a peer-reviewer for many international high quality journals in the wider area of migration, nationalism, sociology and political science. She is a member of the International Advisory Board of Nations and Nationalism and a member of the Editorial Board of Ethnicities. She reviews book proposals for most major Anglophone social science publishers (Palgrave, Routledge, Ashgate, Oxford University Press, Springer Verlag, Amsterdam University Press, Blackwell). She also serves as International Reference Panel member for the Australian government's Migration Research Programme. She has taught advanced training courses for the European Commission in both English and French.

Her main areas of research and teaching are the governance of cultural diversity, nationalism and transnationalism phenomena, and more widely migration (including irregular migration and asylum), in a European and international perspective.

Over the past 15 years, she has raised over 12 million Euro in research funding from a variety of sources including the European Commission (DG Research; DG Empl, DG Home, DG Justice), the International Metropolis Network, the European Science Foundation, the Hellenic Ministry of Culture and Education, the Open Society Foundations. She has co-ordinated a number of major international research projects in the wider research area of migration, nationalism and European integration. Her publications include 120 articles in refereed journals and chapters in collective volumes, 5 authored books and 19 edited and co-edited volumes.
